RACING WOULD BE KILLED IF BETTING WERE STOPPED

WEAK JUST NOW. Talk of Interference by Commission in Charge of Sport Is Ridiculous.

It is reported that the Racing Commission has suggested that the heavy betting on horses in races in this State be curtailed. This story, in spite of the fact that it is absurd and ridiculous, has been printed by quite a number of newspapers. Why should the Racing Commission seek to curtail betting? What business has the Racing Commission to say to any man that he shall limit his operations in the betting ring? The story was probably inspired by an article in The Evening World a few days ago pointing out the harm that was being done to racing by the widespread reports of heavy gambling by certain owners. But the story that the Racing Commission would take the matter in hand is absurd:

If the Racing Commission did suggest such a thing, then there is no better place to begin than right at home, for one of its members is one of the heaviest. Are Gauges, Yale Outclasses Crimson Eleven by a Good If football comparisons were of any papers. Why should the Racing Commission seek to curtail betting? TIGERS GET TOO MUCH

TENDER TREATMENT.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 9.—Football experts who have been watching the practice of the Tigers during this season have complained somewhat of the amount of work being forced on the candidates. It is argued that the men are treated too tenderly, taken out of the game when scratched a little and sometimes given a day off. They recite how in days long ago the man who could stand on ore foot was able to enter practice, and the more he had
